In support of the University College mission and principles, University College faculty are committed to enhancing and improving undergraduate education for students in all units, to supporting interdisciplinary studies, and to promoting academic and scholarly excellence. Unique to University College is the faculty’s focus on creating a community distinguished by multi-disciplinary faculty involved with students through effective mentoring, rigorous teaching, and responsible curriculum design. University College Faculty play a major role in making decisions that direct University College governance and operations, supporting curriculum development, and serving as ambassadors to the campus and community.

I. UNIVERSITY COLLEGE FACULTY APPOINTMENT CRITERIA AND PROCEDURES

A foundational premise of IUPUI’s University College is that faculty must be centrally engaged in creating, guiding and implementing all initiatives for entering students. While University College does not have its own tenured faculty lines, three distinct types of faculty roles have been designed to create a unique Faculty which is broadly representative of the various academic units at IUPUI.

Types of Appointments: There are three types of faculty appointments within University College, Senior Faculty, Adjunct Faculty, and University College Lecturers.

Senior Faculty

The Senior Faculty of University College is composed of 40 individuals drawn from the ranks of tenured and clinical senior faculty in the degree-granting academic units at IUPUI. Appointment is competitive and based on the criteria stated below. The senior faculty provide comprehensive leadership for curricular and academic policy issues.

Appointment criteria for University College Senior Faculty

- Tenure or senior clinical appointment in an academic unit at IUPUI;

Length of Appointment

Appointment as a University College Senior Faculty Member will normally be made for a three-year renewable term. There is no limit on the number of terms a senior faculty member can serve.
Adjunct Faculty

Adjunct Faculty appointment to University College represents a mechanism for recognizing individuals whose campus responsibilities and contributions directly support the mission of University College (e.g., teaching a First Year Seminar, significant committee service, involvement in assessment, or other special projects). The number of Adjunct Faculty appointments and the level and nature of their involvement in University College will vary. This faculty appointment implies a more limited range of responsibilities within University College.

Appointment criteria for University College Adjunct Faculty

Length of Appointment

Appointment as a University College Adjunct Faculty member will normally be made on a one- to three-year renewable basis.

University College Lecturers

While University College does not make its own tenured faculty appointments, like other academic units on campus, it does make a number of term, resident faculty appointments at the rank of Lecturer. In addition to teaching University College courses, these faculty often teach freshman courses in their respective fields. Appointments are subject to appointment and review processes of the campus and the home academic department if any.

Appointment criteria for University College Lecturer

- Academic credentials which meet criteria for appointment as lecturer;
- Demonstrated commitment to undergraduate learning;
- Professional interests and expertise that support the current needs of University College;
- Strong commitment to the mission of University College;

Length of Appointment

Appointment as a University College Lecturer will normally be made on a one- to three-year renewable basis.
NOMINATION AND APPOINTMENT PROCEDURES

The University College Faculty Roles, Responsibilities, and Recognition Committee receives and reviews nominations for senior and adjunct faculty appointments and makes recommendations to the Dean, who, in consultation with the Executive Committee, will make the final selection and appointments. Members of the committee participate in Search and Screen procedures for new lecturer appointments.

ANNUAL REPORT

All faculty members are asked to complete a brief annual report that documents personal accomplishments and involvement with University College, thus allowing University College to more effectively document its accomplishments to external audiences.
